NOTE FROM THE PASTOR: The two stories in today's Gospel are quite touching, perhaps because they involve so much touching – forbidden touching, as a matter of fact. The father falls at Jesus' feet and begs Jesus to help his dying daughter. Only touching her will do. "Come lay your hands on her that she may get well and live" (Mark 5:23). Then as Jesus is passing through the crowd on His way to the little girl, a woman suddenly appears, reaches out, and touches Jesus. "If I but touch his clothes, I shall be cured" (Mark 5: 28). Because the woman was bleeding, a condition that made her "unclean" according to the law of Moses, her touch would have made Jesus unclean. However, her touching Jesus has the opposite effect: the bleeding stops and she is made clean once again. When word comes that the little girl is dead, Jesus proceeds to the house, goes in, takes the child by the hand, and says "Little girl, I say to you, arise!" (Mark 5:41). She does arise and he tells them to bring her some food. Again, touching her would have made Jesus unclean, but instead his touch cleanses her of death's hold. Two desperate people—a dying girl and a bleeding woman. Jesus touches them and they both touch him—the woman through her own faith, the little girl through the faith of her father. It seems that healing depends on a flow between healer and the one being healed. The great news is that God allows a proxy.

IMMIGRATION: The Catholic Catechism instructs the faithful that good government has two duties, both of which must be carried out and neither of which can be ignored. The first duty is to welcome the foreigner out of charity and respect for the human person. Persons have the right to immigrate and thus government must accommodate this right to the greatest extent possible, especially financially blessed nations: "The more prosperous nations are obliged, to the extent they are able, to welcome the foreigner in search of the security and the means of livelihood which he cannot find in his country of origin. Public authorities should see to it that the natural right is respected that places a guest under the protection of those who receive him." Catholic Catechism, 2241. Read "Strangers No Longer Together on the Journey of Hope", a pastoral letter concerning migration from the Catholic Bishops of Mexico and the United States; contact your state representatives and let them know that all human life deserves respect and to be treated humanely; reach out to those in our local communities who may be going through the process of citizenship, continue to pray that all human life will be respected.

IN THE PRESSING CROWD: God is not far off! God acts in the pressing crowd, the commotion of life. God rescues us at birth and in the new baptismal birth, when afflicted, and when near death. Jesus said to Jairus and says to us today: Do not be afraid; just have faith. What do I fear? How can I be unafraid this week? Who can help me? How will staying in touch with Jesus make all the difference?
